THE ALLEN ORGAN CELEBRATES TWO DECADES AT THE SALZBURG FESTIVAL

Since 1982, Allen Organ Company of Macungie, PA, the largest builder of organs in the world, and its German representative, have been supplying organs for the famous SALZBURG FESTIVAL.

The city Of Salzburg, birthplace of Mozart and one of the world's most famous music festival locations, began using Allen organs exclusively for its concerts and opera performances as the choice of Maestro Herbert von Karajan, who also chose an Allen for his American tours with the Berlin Philharmonic.

Allen organs are also now used for both the Easter Festival and the Whitsun Concerts in Salzburg. The company has over 75,000 installations in 80 nations, and the instruments can also be heard in Europe with the Vienna Philharmonic, The London Symphony Orchestra, The Dresden State Orchestra and Symphony Orchestra of Tel Aviv.
