CITY OF BROTHERLY LOVE INAUGURATES STATE-OF-THE-ART ORGAN

ALLEN ORGAN COMPANY of Macungie, PA, world's largest organ builder and pioneer of digital sound, announces a large pipe/digital combination instrument. The LEVERINGTON PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, on historic Ridge Avenue in Philadelphia, received proposals from various pipe organ builders to enlarge the existing instrument. After hearing results that the ALLEN ORGAN COMPANY has produced in several large eastern Pennsylvania churches with its addition of digitally "sampled" stops to pipe ranks, the congregation placed an order for a custom four-manual organ. The audio for the eighty digital stops is mounted behind the pipe organ façade. The digital technology, reproducing the sound of over five thousand pipes, requires no maintenance or tuning. The artistic tonal voicing to blend the winded and digital sounds was managed by Scott Clark, of ALLEN ORGAN COMPANY, assisted by Mr. Jeremy Zuck, organist of the parish. A dedication recital performed by concert artist Adam Koch is planned for April 2005. A concert appearance by 19-year-old world famous Allen Artist FELIX HELL is planned for late November.
